BULGARIA IS FREED FROM RESTRICTIONS ON ARMS AND ARMIES

Balkan Entente Gives Nation Equality in Armaments and Signs Non-Aggression Agreement—Action Regarded as Another Move Toward Closer Relations With European Countries

LONDON, Aug. 1 (AP)—Bulgaria's old enemies, the allied powers of the Great War, today chorused approval of Balkan action freeing Bulgaria from post-war treaty's restrictions on armaments and armies. There appeared no bar to similar action by Hungary, only nation still nominally bound by the restrictions imposed by the victorious allies.

Others of the war-time central powers—Germany and Turkey—already have thrown off rearmament bonds.

In a pact signed yesterday at Sarajevo, the Balkan Entente—Greece, Turkey, Rumania and Yugoslavia—gave Bulgaria equality in maintaining her army, navy and air force and established a non-aggression agreement among participating nations.

The move was regarded as regularization of Bulgaria's rearmament which long had existed in fact.

OBTAINS APPROVAL

To the abrogation of armaments clauses of the post-war Treaty of Neuilly, Bulgaria first obtained approval of the Balkan Entente and then off the record approval from treaty signatories—principally Great Britain and France.

Official approval of the signatures is expected to be asked soon and then the matter will be laid before the League of Nations Assembly for formal legislation as provided by Article 19 of the League Covenant, which requires assembly approval for treaty revisions.

Though a "backdoor" method of legal revision, Bulgaria's method

MANY INJURED IN HILO RIOT

Police and Waterfront Strikers Clash in Hawaii—Five Critically Hurt

HILO, Hawaii, Aug. 1 (AP)—Bloody fighting between police and waterfront strikers ended in the injury of thirty-six persons today, five of them critically, amid showers of buckshot and the use of at least one shotgun. It was the worst riot in Hilo's modern history.

The disorder was precipitated by arrival from Honolulu of the steamship Wainiki, operated by the Inter-Island Navigation Company, which long has been engaged in strikes, and which May 21, when contract negotiations collapsed.

Four ships of the company were tied up until ten days ago when the Wainiki arrived here in defiance of the strike, precipitating a previous riot in which three children were trampled.

Today's fighting started when pickets pushed beyond police line as the steamer docked after police had promised to take "whatever steps are necessary" to maintain order.

Tax Collections Come in Faster

VANCOUVER, Aug. 1 (CP)— Collections in civic taxes here were today reported by the city treasurer to be nearly half a million dollars higher for the first seven months of the year than in the corresponding period of 1937.

When Mail Arrives in Equatorial Sudan

When the Nile is falling it is impossible for passengers and mail to reach their destinations by river steamer. In the final stages of the journey the steamer often sticks in the mud, and when this happens one of the barges is pulled the last ten miles by Dinka tribesmen of whom over a hundred are listed for this purpose. The scene of this picture, Masha El Reg, was formerly a flourishing centre of the slave trade before British occupation of the Sudan ninety years ago.

Distinguished Naval Officer Is Guest at Navy Week Luncheon

Mayor Andrew McGavin and City Council Hosts to Premier T. D. Pattullo and Vice-Admiral Sir Sidney Julius Meyrick

PREMIER T. D. Pattullo, Vice-Admiral Sir Sidney Julius Meyrick, officers of H.M.S. York and the Royal Canadian Navy, officers of Military District No. 11, Provincial Cabinet Ministers and others were guests of Mayor Andrew McGavin and the City Council at the Navy Week luncheon held in the Empress Hotel yesterday.

Mayor McGavin was the chairman. Premier Pattullo was seated at his left and Admiral Meyrick on his right. All naval officers were civilian clothing because of court mourning for Dowager Queen Marie of Rumania. The only toast proposed by the mayor was "The King."

In welcoming Admiral Meyrick and officers present, Mayor McGavin stated:

"It is indeed a pleasure to entertain the Royal and Royal Canadian Navies. I am sure everyone knows what may be my up against on the Pacific Coast some day but the navy, army and air forces will undoubtedly furnish adequate means of protection."

WELCOMES GUESTS

"The City of Victoria is not solely responsible for this luncheon. The Provincial Government and Oak Bay co-operated with us. I extend a hearty welcome to Premier Pattullo, Admiral Meyrick and all our other distinguished guests. I can assure you that Admiral Meyrick is one of the finest speakers ever to visit the city aboard a British ship." Mayor McGavin concluded.

GYROS VIEW BIG LEAGUE PLAYERS

Baseball as Played by Leading Exponents Are Depicted at Weekly Luncheon Meeting

"Natural ability for the game, clean living and ambition to succeed are the prime requisites for success in the baseball game." This was the opinion expressed by Connie Mack, who should know whereof he speaks with regard to professional baseball.

This information came from the picture, "Batter Up," shown in the Empress Hotel yesterday to members of the Gyro Club. The picture, presented through the courtesy of the General Motors of Canada team, was thrown on the screen by R. B. Wilson, representing the company.

Connie Mack introduced to the spectators various prominent figures in the baseball game, including team managers, pitchers and other players, while pictures of the actual playing were presented, showing many of the big league members in action.

An interesting and informative feature of the pictures was the slow-motion pictures depicting the pitcher, the batter and the base runner in action. The task of the umpire in deciding when a base runner was safe or not was told in the pictures in slow motion.

The signalling methods employed on the field were shown and advised by several players who have attained to high places in the game.

Mr. Wilson was thanked by the president of the Gyro Club for his kindness in presenting the picture to the club.

INCIDENT LEADS TO REAL BATTLE

were brought into the battle in disputed territory.

One Soviet scouting plane was brought down, and the Soviet announcement said it was believed the pilot was captured after he took to his parachute.

Thirteen Russian soldiers were killed and fifty-five wounded.

SPORTS OF WAR

The Russians captured five artillery pieces and four machine guns, and lost a tank and a field piece themselves.

An official account of the battle said Japanese concentrated one division against Zaozernaya (Changkuang) after they were repulsed in an attack on a nearby hill last Friday, and on Sunday opened the battle unexpectedly with an artillery barrage. They bombarded nearby hills and a road to prevent the arrival of reinforcements.

After penetrating Soviet territory a distance of two and one-half miles, they were driven back.

Soviet troops did not cross the Manchukuo border, it was explained, and so were unable to encircle the Japanese or make a flank attack upon them.

PLEDGE RESISTANCE

Prior to the official announcement little mention was made here of the trouble with Japan as mass meetings of Soviet workers celebrated Anti-War Day and pledged resistance to any invader.

The gravity of the situation was seen in instructions to the Soviet Charge d'Affaires in Tokio to warn the Japanese Government of "possible terrible consequences" of this invasion of Russian territory.

The battle ranks as the biggest clash on the Soviet-Manchukuo frontier since the beginning in 1931.

Foreign military observers here who previously were inclined to view the situation as anything other than incidents, were beginning to take a graver view of the encounter.

DEPENDS ON MOSCOW

TOKIO, Aug. 1 P— After five days war planes bombed and machine-gunned Japanese positions since today, the Tokio Foreign Office spokesman was quoted as saying it now depends on the attitude of Moscow whether the border clashes develop into a major war.

Demet (Japanese News Agency) published the statement of the Foreign Office spokesman.

General Kazushige Ugaki, Foreign Minister, disclosed that he instructed the Japanese Ambassador in Moscow yesterday to open any negotiations with Foreign Commissioner Maxim Litvinoff but declined to divulge the nature of the new steps.

PLANES SHOT DOWN

The Japanese army declared five war planes in today's raids were shot down, four inside the border of Japan, Korea.

Slight damage was done to buildings to which both the Soviet and Japanese-dominated Manchukuo lay claim.

Japanese militarists called the attack a "face-saving" device by the Russians because of the Japanese claim to have captured in the contested region.

Taking a serious view of the incident, the Japanese announcement said the air raids occurred between 12:30 and 3:30 p.m.—between 10:30 Sunday night and 1:30 a.m. EST Monday.

The newest Soviet-Japanese friction commenced July 11 when the Japanese accused Soviet troops of penetrating air mines within Manchukuo and starting construction of fortifications.

DAILY CHARGES

Almost daily since then charges and counter-charges have been made by diplomatic representations which were rebuffed, have flown back and forth between Tokio and Moscow.

Though Japanese military circles indicated they viewed the newest incident gravely, Moscow reports said informed Soviet circles minimized the importance of the frontier friction.

The Japanese Army declared Soviet troops were withdrawing from Changkuang after a "terrible" engagement there yesterday.

The disputed territory Japanese said, was regained in fighting which brought an estimate of 600 Russian casualties. The War Office reported fighting started Saturday night and continued until dawn on Monday.

Conspiracy Trial Jury Discharged

LONDON, Ky., Aug. 1 (P)—The Hessian labor conspiracy trial was discharged as "hopelessly deadlocked" today and the Government immediately moved for a retrial.

Individual jurors later said seven favored acquittal and five conviction of the twenty-one former Harlan peace officers, eighteen operators and sixteen coal corporations charged with a criminal conspiracy to violate miners' rights under the Wagner Labor Relations Act.

GENERAL'S BLESSING

Archie Deacon F. G. Scott, of Quebec, beloved padre of the troops overseas, who conducted the drum-head service of the remembrance Sunday, pronounced a blessing and spoke briefly.

The young troops were singing hymns and the organist, consisting of his brother and sister, played.

Following his estimation in 1934 at the age of twenty-three, Archie Deacon, blind and clear-sighted, went into prominence as a preacher. During the first full year of his ministry he delivered 159 sermons, and several years later he delivered 482 times in a single year.

Since then his average number of sermons has totaled one a day.

I cannot say that I have noted much of a change in the moral standard of the world today but I am extremely hopeful for the future.

Immediately following the war there was a decided jump in the world's moral level but even still I believe that the younger generation is in need of again reaching a high ideal.

They stopped street car and motor traffic and police were forced to divert cars along other streets.

Dr. John Clarke, medical examiner, said Lewisohn had been overcome by poison used to fumigate the cottage. He gave a report of accidental death.

Plan to Dismantle Inner Harbor Mill If Counsel Agrees

Canadian Puget Sound Company to Pay City $17,000 for Balance Owing on Property and Taxes—To Sell Machinery.

SUBJECT to the approval of Elliott, Maclean & Shandley, city legal advisers, the Canadian Puget Sound sawmill will be dismantled on payment of $17,000 to the city and the signing of an agreement that the company will pay 1938 taxes on the property.

At a City Council meeting yesterday morning, H. G. Lawson, K.C., whereby the company purchases water for the Goldstream substation the mill could not be operated at a profit on account of its state and economic conditions in general.

He said the company would raise $17,000 to pay the city the balance owing on the property and 1937 taxes. The company intended to dismantle and sell the machinery.

Two years ago the company purchased the mill from the city on deferred payments after the property had reverted for non-payment of taxes.

Alderman James Adam and John A. Worthington reminded Mr. Lawson that the company promised to reopen the mill and provide employment for a number of men. Alderman B. J. Gadson wanted to know if the city would be left with a lot of debris to clean up and a set of dilapidated wharves. Mr. Lawson explained the company hoped to retain the land.

VOTE AGAINST PLAN

Aldermen Worthington and Gadson voted against the plan to accept $17,000 from the mill company, but the motion carried.

A letter from W. A. McAdam, acting agent-general for British Columbia, stated he was unable to approach the Imperial Government with a view to the storage of grain in the elevator here. He will be thanked for his efforts.

A communication from the Minister of Labor informed the council that present forestry training projects were as effective as the Civilian Conservation Corps programme in the United States, and could be extended if sufficient funds were received.

An extension of one month from August 1 was granted to the British Columbia Electric Railway Com-

Alderman W. Lloyd Morgan gave notice that he intended to introduce a motion urging the Union of British Columbia Municipalities to recommend to the Government that all relief cheques be exempt from the stamp tax. Alderman Worthington stated that he intended to introduce a motion dealing with "petty highway annoyances" to motorists.

NEBRASKA'S EXAMPLE

There is one state in the union of the neighboring republic where economy has been the watchword and that is Nebraska. Towards this end an effort was made in 1934 to lessen the evil of party politics by what was called a unicameral system of government. This system is being prolonged in a desire to prove its beneficial effects. A current issue of The Financial Post describes Nebraska's way of doing political business. It appears that the state is out of debt because there is a policy of paying as it goes. That example has communicated itself to the people of the state; they have an abhorrence of debt. They do not demand that their government should engage in foolish and wanton expenditures. On the contrary, thrift is their watchword, and that, too, is the keynote of public business.

The criticism has been forthcoming that Nebraska neglects many of what are called social services, and that it skimps outlay on education. That may be so, but in the latter particular Nebraska ranks second among the States of the Union in literacy. The general criticism in this regard has been answered by the governor of the state who says: "When you are poor, and there is only so much money to go round, you cut your standards to your resources." Nebraska has been following the policy of making ends meet which is an excellent policy both in the case of government and individuals.

Nebraska meets its obligations as they occur. There is a state property levy of 2.54 mills. There is a levy on personal possessions, including motor cars, furniture, money in the bank, bonds, stocks, etc. There is a 5 cent per gallon a tax on gasoline. There is a poll tax of $2 on every citizen between the ages of twenty-one and fifty. There is, too, a substantial tax on liquor, and licence fees on beauty parlors, second-hand car dealers and real estate agents. In all, the budget of Nebraska is $30,000,000 annually. Under the system that has been ordained Nebraska has been able to pay for its $10,000,000 State Capitol. Thus, that building cost only the sum mentioned. If it has been financed over a period of twenty years at 5 per cent it would have cost $20,000,000. The same policy has been followed in all the state's construction projects, and as a result, many millions of dollars have been saved to the taxpayers. This is simply an illustration that a government can keep out of debt if it wants to, and if it does it is in so much the happier position, and so are the people it governs; they are encouraged, too, in a policy of thrift. Governments may consider it advisable to buy a continued lease of power at the expense of the people's credit, but they do so by promoting a woeful outlook, by putting a burden on posterity and by formulating a bad example, for where governments get into debt the assurance is that the people they govern will do also in their individual concerns.

DIET AND VITAMINS

Most of those who are interesting themselves expertly in diet, or at least those who are best acquainted with the subject, are fully aware that what is considered to be the true menu for health this year may be the false one in 1939. The ideal diet cannot yet be defined, and the probability is that it will continue to vary in the case of each individual. One authority, Crator Fattig of Emory University, believes that a man can eat anything that a pig can eat. The fact remains that the majority of people go on choosing their food for the pleasure it gives their palates, and without any particular reference to the vitamins it contains.

Out of all the ideas on nutrition that have been developed in recent years, and particularly on this continent, one fact seems to emerge: that there are constant changes in what are recommended in foodstuffs, and the proportions in which they should be taken. That means no ideal diet has yet been found. "Fortune," an American publication, says that 500 patients of the Mayo Clinic were asked what foods caused them indigestion. Twenty-seven per cent were distressed by onions, 26 per cent by milk, butter, ice cream and raw apples; 25 per cent by cooked cabbage; 15 per cent by tomatoes. The historical offenders, such as cucumbers, fat pork, pickles and pie, only caused indigestion in 13 per cent of the patients.

Another idea exploded by experience is that excessive meat-eating causes gout, rheumatism, blood pressure and kidney trouble. This is, of course, the contention put forward by vegetarians. It is now recognized that meat is an efficient food, and there have been cases where man has lived on meat alone for long periods and suffered none of the ill it is alleged to cause. The truth is that as soon as one diet fails another is born. Even the idea that bread and potatoes are the most fattening of starchy foods is subject to amendment, because, it appears, it is not the potatoes and bread that are to blame as much as the butter that is used with them. One contention is that the dried forms of bread, like crackers, have ten times as much fat and 15 per cent more starch than bread itself.

Medical science has never determined finally and conclusively that milk is necessarily a perfect food, or that it is really needed by anyone over a year old. Millions of earth's inhabitants thrive without milk at all, for they are not within reach of the cow. Then there is the cult of orange juice, which is regarded as essential at many million breakfasts. Medical science has discovered that it is rich in Vitamin C, but no richer than fresh cabbage, green peppers or some half-dozen other foodstuffs. The belief in the "inestimable" virtues of spinach is on the decline, perhaps since it has been found that such commodities as oysters, liver, molasses, dried lima beans and egg yolk are three times as potent in iron as the humble, but much lauded, vegetable.

Despite all diet fads, and medical advice on the subject, there is little danger of the work-a-day menu not getting enough vitamins necessary to health. No one in good health needs the prescription of any diet. Such a person finds in health what is tasteful and what agrees with physical capacity. It may be doubted if anyone knows how much of any one vitamin is necessary to health. The doctors themselves disagree very widely on the subject, because they know that they have the individual element to reckon with, and capacities of digestion that often enough cannot be fathomed.

UNIFIED CONTROL

Mr. A. D. Cartwright, an ex-secretary of the Board of Railway Commissioners, has given an answer to the "bugaboo" raised by certain interests that unification of control of the transportation systems would be detrimental to the interests of the people of Canada. His experience is that the Board of Railway Commissioners was created to protect the public against the Canadian railways and remedy any abuses that exist, particularly in the West. He describes the board as a court, with all the authority and powers of a high court of justice, and a court from which for all practical purposes there is no appeal, except on a question of law or jurisdiction when an appeal may be made to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Mr. Cartwright, therefore, believes that under unification of the transportation systems, were that policy adopted, the public would have nothing to fear just so long as men of known and proved integrity are in control of the administration of the Railway Act. So long as the fountain of justice is kept pure and free from all political intrigue there is no fear of unified control proving a failure. It would be directed by the findings of the Board of Railway Commissioners. "The board," says Mr. Cartwright, "differs little from our ordinary courts of justice, and if a high standard is not maintained in these, the general public are the sufferers, but no one on that account, suggests abolishing out courts."

SOCIALISM IN ACTION

In Moscow the Palace of the Soviets is being completed. It is 328 feet high, made of stainless steel, built in twelve tiers, with 140 entrances, 147 elevators, sixty-two escalators, acres of murals and hall to seat 20,000 people. This year already 6,000,000 cubic feet of rock and dirt are being excavated and 5,000,000 feet of concrete poured. The building will not be completed until 1942, and will involve the use of 650,000 tons of steel as well as considerable quantities of concrete, marble and limestone. What the ultimate cost will be no one knows, but this year a sum of $20,000,000 is being spent. The Palace of the Russian peasants live in hovels, and while there is a scarcity of schools, houses, hospitals and sanitaria. The Russian worker is the poorest paid in the world. The Russian ruling junta sees to it that it lives in luxury. That is Socialism in practice.

THIS GOOD EARTH

A lone bird stretches toward the night.
Beyond the greatness of the hill
The shadowed stream is strangely still—
Within its depths quick moonbeams school
Like silver minnows in a pool.
With dignity, dark night comes down
And wraps its calm about the town.
Across the fields—a world away—
I hear a hound-dog's doleful bay.
But here, within this sleeping wood,
Green quietude is understood.
Abiding peace lies all around
And goodness issues from the ground.

SAYS PROBLEM IS NOT SOLVED

R. W. Mayhew, M.P., States Unemployment Situation Must Still Be Faced

"The unemployment problem is not over, because the jobless have moved out of Victoria but on the contrary, I have heard of a 6-0-1 shot to win his seventh Dominion title, but this twenty-one-year-old former caddie from Missouri stepped up and stopped the winning streak of Canada's greatest shotmaker. Only a few Americans have crossed the border and taken the crown back. One is 'Scotty' Campbell, Seattle star, who won in Vancouver in 1933 and then went back to Montreal the following year and repeated, defeating the same Somerville in the final. . . . Another large turnout is expected at the Athletic Park Thursday evening, when the touring Zulu Giants from Detroit meet the local baseballers for the third time. Last week more than 4,000 fans crowded the park in successive evenings. And they say Victoria isn't baseball conscious. . . . North Shore United is a strong favorite to bring the Canadian football title back to Vancouver for a second straight year. . . .

TANK Runs Dry

Putting his best on green after green, Ted Adams, young American, pride losed the Canadian amateur golf diaem from the head of the veteran Sandy Somerville last Saturday and he did it right in Sandie's own back yard. The 6-0-1 shot to win his seventh Dominion title, but this twenty-one-year-old former caddie from Missouri stepped up and stopped the winning streak of Canada's greatest shotmaker. Only a few Americans have crossed the border and taken the crown back. UNIFICATION ISSUE

"I think unification is pretty much of a dead issue," Mr. Mayhew stated, in speaking on the railway situation in Canada. He said it would be a step backwards to destroy some of the railways because it was thought they couldn't be kept going, adding that the day would come when the railways would be necessary and on a paying basis.

Mr. Mayhew declared it was up to the governments and individuals to start a progressive movement, not backwards, and ask the railways not to fight for a little business, but to get together to develop the industry and ultimately make it pay.

NATURAL RESOURCES

In marking a plan for the development of natural resources, he said he did not think Canada would go broke by using money in this manner.

Mr. Mayhew also spoke of his reception in Ottawa, making the observation that Canada could get rid of the place if it were rid of a few of the members of the political parties. He extended his appreciation and thanks to the members of the board and their families for their expressions of sympathy during his recent illness.

Donald MacBride, chairman of the board, thanked Mr. Mayhew for his talk and assured him of the board's confidence in him.

This Democratic Age

The democratic spirit of the big Highfield gathering at Macdonald Park last Sunday was best exemplified in the loud-speaker comments, heard all over the grounds, for Major — to go to the telephone as Corporal — wished to speak to him. And the Major went! A venerable kill made its appearance on the field in the form of twin kilts worn by twin sisters, Betty and Joan Anderson. They inherited the kilts from their grandfather, William Anderson, veteran eighty-one-year-old dancer, who was present on Saturday to receive from President Duncan MacBride, a life membership in the Highland Games Association. Mr. Anderson wore the kilt fifty years ago at a time when he was winning many amateur dancing events. It has been split in two, and his granddaughters have this year won prizes while wearing it. . . . Their brother Allan, also present on Saturday, wears and wins prizes in a kilt worn by his father twenty-five years ago when he won the award as the best-dressed dancer. Aye, they Scots are thrifty—J.E.M.B.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Beware of advertisements which are mere chaff-pennies! Alas! How many of you have wasted your money beguiled by wonderful stories all about far-distant lands and gratitude—and late husbands? Is it not better to consult someone who is able to see and talk to, living right here in one's own home town rather than to venture to send money to some unknown person from whom there is no redress—except through law—which is costly and therefore never resorted to.

HMS. York and the Royal Canadien Navy will be seen in action at a football game in Royal Athletic Park at 5:30 o'clock. The Naval Veterans will hold a smoking concert in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium at 8 o'clock.

"Miss Victoria" Is Given Enthusiastic Reception

Coronation Ball Held at Empress Hotel by Junior Chamber of Commerce—Drill Team and Guests of Honor Applauded

Miss Kay White, as "Miss Victoria," took her place as guest of honor at the Coronation Ball held last evening at the Empress Hotel and she was greeted enthusiastically by the dancers at the ball and by the crowds which had assembled in the lounge of the hotel to watch the entry of "Miss Victoria" and her attendants.

The Honourable Lieutenant Governor was represented at the ball by Lieutenant-Colonel Hugh Allan, who was accompanied by Mrs. Allan and welcomed by the committee in charge of the ball. His Worship the Mayor and Mrs. McGavin were present and a number of the city aldermen and officials were also there.

"MISS VICTORIA"

The Junior Chamber of Commerce gaily-uniformed girls' drill team preceded "Miss Victoria" and her entourage and the smart drilling of the girls was much admired. The team was led by the Junior Chamber's little six-year-old mascot, Master Raymond Ralph, and as the party entered the Crystal Ballroom, the "Coronation March," from "The Prophet" (Meyerbeer) was played by Mr. William F. Tickle and an eight-piece orchestra.

"Miss Victoria" looked very charming in a gown of Empire design, fashioned of gleaming white satin, the long skirt forming a fan upon with lace insets. The yoke of the gown and the puffed top of the long sleeves were also made of the lace and small white buttons finished the front of the bodice. A Queen Anne collar of stiffened lace formed points round the back of her neck. On her head she wore a crown of gold and of purple velvet and she carried an exquisite sheaf of red roses which had been presented to her earlier in the evening by Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Premier of British Columbia.

THE ATTENDANTS

Her two attendants, Miss Doreen McGregor and Miss Jeanne Groot, also looked very attractive. McGregor's frock was of a dainty peach-pink flat crepe, made with a square-necked shirred bodice and a short bolero of matching marquise trimmings with three rows of

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

PARKSVILLE

The annual Summer tea of the Parksville Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Wilcox, French Creek, on Thursday. Besides members and friends, many visitors were welcomed. Lady Petter, who was introduced by Mr. Wilcox, opened the fete. During tea Miss Grey's girls gave a much-appreciated display of dancing. There was a British Columbia products stall and one for home cooking, as well as various side shows, archery, croquet clock, golf, etc., and raffles, and a treasure hunt for the children.

Mr. F. J. Sehl was master of ceremonies and the committee responsible for the ball arrangements comprised the following members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce: Mrs. Arthur Baker chairman; Bill Meares, Warren Martin, Harry Bleasdale, who had arranged the date on which "Miss Victoria" and her attendants sat in the ballroom; Charles Powell, Alex Hill, Tom Little, George McCann and Cedric Lefevre.

Queen Talks To Victorian

Miss Gwen Spencer Hethay, Victoria, chatted with Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth at the Buckingham Palace garden party last month, according to word received here.

Miss Hethay, well-known rifle shot of Victoria, has been in England for the Bisley meet and was presented to Her Majesty at the garden party by Mr. W. A. McAdam, acting agent-general for British Columbia, and Mrs. McAdam.

The Queen showed keen interest in hearing that Mrs. Hethay had come so far and discussed the meet with her. Her Majesty asked her when she had taken up rifle shooting and of her experiences in the various sports she had attended.

The Queen introduced Mrs. Hethay to the two little princesses Elizabeth and Margaret. Hethay appeared delighted to talk to the Canadian visitor about her Bisley experiences.

HANDY

Supposing you found yourself on a desert island, Bobby said the Sunday school teacher "and could only have one book. Which book would you prefer?"

"Boat-Building for Amateurs" Bobby replied.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore an attractive frock of powder blue sheer trimmed with Dubonnet wine corded ribbon, and a corsage bouquet of gardenias and wiananias. Her turban and veil and other accessories were also in the wine shade.

Miss Catherine Alexander was her sister's bridesmaid. In a pretty frock of printed sheer in shades of blue and rose, and a matching shepherdess hat. She wore a corsage bouquet of Columbine roses and wiananias and white accessories.

Mr. Schubert Fraser was best man.

RECEPTION HELD
A small reception, at which relatives and a few close friends were present, was held later at the home of the bride's parents, Queen Avenue, during which the bride and groom stood between tall bouquets held with spray roses, delphiniums and gladioli in shades of blue and white. The bride's cake stood on folds of pink tulip in the centre of the tea table, which was covered with a hand-made lace cloth and decorated with tiny vases of Ophelia roses and maidenhair fern. Assistant Mrs. Alexander in receiving the guests was Miss Betty Dutcher, Vanouver sister of the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Dutcher left during the afternoon for the American mainland for a motor trip to Mount Rainier and after their honeymoon will make their home in Vancouver. For traveling the bride donned a guard-mane blue French woolen coat, with beige wolf cuffs, over her wedding outfit.

A DARLING 100% cotton percale dirndl play dress, buttons cunningly down the back in pinfore styling. Brief matching panties, and a matching peasant scarf tied about the head, make it a complete outfit. For cooler days, daughter will be thrilled to wear the crisp contrasting white blouse of sheer cotton. Dainty self-ruffling makes a pretty finish for the Peter Pan collar and for the cuffs of the puffed-up sleeves. Mummy will find it so simple to sew and will run up several outfit, one in a peasant print and perhaps one in striped denim or a solid-colored chambray. Simple to launder, too, as it opens out almost flat. The one-piece panties have elastic at the waist.

Style No. 2101 is designed for sizes 4, 6, 8 and 10 years. Size 8 requires 1 1/4 yards of 39-inch material with 5/8 yard of 35-inch contrasting for scarf and jumper, 1 yard of 39-inch material and 1 1/2 yards of ruffling for blouse and 1 yard of 35-inch material for panties.

Vancouver Tennis Star Hard Pressed to Eliminate Ben Villeneuve as Canadian Championships Get Under Way at Toronto — Gilbert Nunn Beaten—Phil Pearson Scores Victory

By JACK CANNON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
TORONTO, Aug. 1 (CP)—A starry contingent from the United States had to yield the center of a rain-soaked stage to the brilliant play of a pair of unseeded players today as the Canadian tennis championships began.

As the clay courts at Toronto Lawn Tennis Club dried after an all-night rain, Vladimir Hlavacek, tall Czechoslovakian who came to Toronto three months ago, wore down the veteran Gilbert Nunn of Toronto, to gain a 6-8, 6-2 victory. In a day marked otherwise by little in the way of surprises, the long second-round battle of the two specialists was easily the feature.

Frankie Parker, the seeded No. 1 entrant and third ranking player in the United States in 1937, drew a first-round bye and stepped through the second stage with a 6-1, 6-1 victory over J. Alan Ross, Toronto veteran. Wilmer Allison, of Dallas, Texas, long a power in United States tennis, will not arrive until tomorrow. He entered the third round by default.

GRUPELLING MATCH
Of Canada's four Davis Cup players who were swept from the international competition last week at Montreal, by Japan, Doug Cameron, of Vancouver, had the hardest day. He defeated M. Young, of Toronto, 6-1, 6-2, in the first round, but in the second he had to weather a grueling match with Ben Villeneuve, of Ottawa, who won 10-8, 5-7, 6-4. Cameron's game was decided off in his second match and most of his attempted smash turned into errors. The Coast star had to finish off his persistent opponent with piccades.

The other three members of the team progressed on draw defaults and straight-set decisions in the second round. Bobby Murray, of Montreal, who lost two singles matches to the Japanese, defeated M. Sauer, of Toronto, 6-1, 6-1. Lund Watt, of Montreal, put out R. Talby, of Kitchener, 6-4, 6-2, and Ross Wilson downed J. Abbott, of Owen Sound, 6-1, 6-2.

Phil Pearson, Vancouver youngster, spelled an experienced Buffalo campaigner, Lou Schaefer, 6-3, 6-1, in the second round, with a sparkling show of finished tennis Bill Pedlar, Canadian junior champion and Pearson's doubles mate, stepped over Dave Robertson in the first round, 6-4, 6-2, and Alf Brenner, of Toronto, in the second, 6-1, 6-4, to give the Coast three places in the third round.

Saskatoon sent a youngster who caught the eye of the observers in Peter MacKenzie, who dropped a marathon match to Grant McLean, of Toronto. Northern Ontario champion, after spilling Jack Sibulash, of Toronto, 6-4, 6-3, and Alf Brenner, of Toronto, in the first round, McLean had just enough extra polish to beat him 2-6, 6-1.

INDIANS LOSE TO SENATORS IN THE TENTH

Cleveland Beaten by Washington and Idle Yankees Stretch Lead

The big guns of the Detroit Tigers were spiced on Monday by pitchers Les Ross and Edgar Smith, of the Philadelphia Athletics, in one of the only two games on the major league schedule. Philadelphia won 4-0. Washington's Senators blasted out three runs on as many hits in the tenth inning and shaded Cleveland Indians 11-8 in the other.

The other three members of the team progressed on draw defaults and straight-set decisions in the second round. Bobby Murray, of Montreal, who lost two singles matches to the Japanese, defeated M. Sauer, of Toronto, 6-1, 6-1. Lund Watt, of Montreal, put out R. Talby, of Kitchener, 6-4, 6-2, and Ross Wilson downed J. Abbott, of Owen Sound, 6-1, 6-2.

Cleveland's defeat at the hands of the Senators dropped the tribe to two and a half games of the league-leading New York Yankees' pace. The "Nats," trailing 5-1 at the end of the third, came back twice to overhaul the Indians, who used four pitchers. R. H. E.

H.M.S. York to Meet Royal Canadian Navy in Cup Football Match

Champions of the West Indies Squadron, soccer players from the visiting British cruiser H.M.S. York will play their third match on British Columbia soil this evening when they oppose the Royal Canadian Navy in the Naval Veterans' Trophy fixture at the Royal Alderney Park. The game will commence at 5:30 o'clock. Playing at Bermuda the British bluejackets won the Governor's Trophy, emblematic of the base championship, defeating Royal Navy and Garrison elevens in the knockout series. In the final H.M.S. York blanked H.M.S. Exeter, 5-0.

Royal Canadian Navy soccer players won the coveted Naval Veterans' Trophy for the third time last year when they defeated H.M.S. Exeter, 5-2, in the second game of the series.

In the initial clash, the teams battled to a 2-2 score. Tonight, with their team at full strength they should provide stiff opposition for their friendly rivals from the Old Country.

DOMINION SHOWS "THE TOY WIFE"

Luise Rainer contributes outstanding character role in current picture

Luise Rainer, only star ever to be accorded two Academy awards, proves her unqualified right to the position with another character gem as outstanding as her former roles.

Her "Froufrou" Brigand in "The Toy Wife," which will open today at the Dominion Theatre, adds a delineation which may well nominate her for the third time and create still another precedent. By turn the frivolous, light-hearted girl, the equally irresponsible wife, and the broken tragic figure which her own folly makes her, she draws a masterpiece and truly moving picture which any other actress of the year will be hard pressed to match.

Stocks Drift in Sleepy Session On Wall Street

NEW YORK, Aug. 1 (CP)—In the deepest session for more than six weeks, the stock market yesterday drifted fractions to more than a point lower.

Trading forces, on the whole, ignored "good" news, most standing aside on the belief a more sizable "correction" than has yet been witnessed was in the offing.

There was a half-hearted attempt at a rally in the afternoon when the American Iron and Steel Institute estimated that week's steel mill operating rate up 28 at 39.4 per cent of capacity, a peak since last November and the fourth consecutive weekly upturn. Steels and motors leading the forenoon breakdown, virtually erased their losses during a brief interval. These again slipped in the final hour, although holding close declines to fractions.

The day's volume of transfers amounted to 586,510 shares, the smallest for a full session since June 17, just preceding the start of the "baby boom." The total compared with 1,201,240 last Friday. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 4 of a point at 487.

Rails slipped downward today in general trading on the bond market. Utilities also were off a bit, according to The Associated Press average while industrials and the low yield groups advanced slightly to register new highs for the year. The foreign dollar last was steady.

DOW JONES AVERAGES

Dow Jones averages closed today as follows:

Thirty industrials, 140.36, off 0.89.

Twenty rails, 28.15, off 0.30.

Fifteen Utilities, 25.50, off 0.13.

Jane Dixon Says:

GIRL IN LOVE WITH BOY WHO IS DATING OTHERS, SHOULD SEEK OTHER COMPANIONSHIP, TOO — UNLESS PLEDGED TO MARRY. COUPLE SHOULD NOT IMPOSE BONDS OF DEVOTION ON EACH OTHER.

What might some of the young friends of this column have to say about the problem in today's letter?

Is the girl too demanding?

Is the boy taking in too much territory?

Let us have your frank opinions on this subject for information and help of other boys and girls.

Dear Miss Dixon: I am very deeply in love with a boy who has been in my company quite a while. We have been devoted to one another. He is a very popular boy, and is invited everywhere, and I have been going all the places with him.

Unfortunately, for the past month, his work calls for late hours and this has caused confusion about our dates. He claims he is too tired to come and see me or to call for me when he finished work. That he goes straight home, that there is no one but me.

I have trusted him and have not had a single date, for he always is on my mind and in my heart. Now I have found that he's been dating other girls. I talked with him about this, but he insists I don't understand or I don't love him, and he threatens to end our friendship if I mention the matter again.

I can't go on as we are, and yet I love him. Do you think it a wise idea for me to go away and try to forget him or will I be haunted by memories of him if I do go away? — "Down-Hearted."

Comment: You did not tell me your age or the age of the boy. You did not tell me whether your courtship had progressed to the stage where the young man asked you to marry him. Until young people have reached the age and the stage wherein they reasonably can exchange vows of lasting loyalty, neither the boy nor the girl should impose bonds of devotion on the other.

My advice to Down-Hearted, is not to mention the matter to the boy again. Don't press him to pay you attention; he is not willing or ready to pay. The more you press, the less willing and ready he will be. Look about you and see if you cannot find other boys who would prove to be interesting and agreeable companions on occasion. You need to give more consideration to friendship and less to "love."
